im still trying to figure out how the clinton administration deregulating the subprime market and the derivatives market is the fault of the republicans